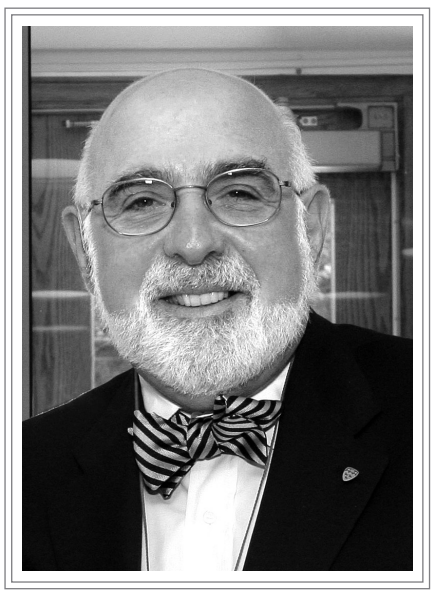
THE INAUGURAL DR. LESLIE A. WELLS LECTURE IN MEDICAL PROFESSIONALISM

The New Professionalism and the Old Doctoring

By Dr. Abraham Fuks



3 p.m. Sunday Oct. 14 2012
The Fluvarium
5 Nagle's Place, St. John's

Abraham Fuks is a Professor in the Departments of Medicine, Pathology and Oncology at McGill University and served as the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine. His research interests have included the immunogenetics of diabetes, tumour-associated antigens and cell adhesion molecules and ethical aspects of trials involving human subjects. He was Chairman of the Institutional Review Board at McGill for a number of years and currently teaches medical students in various topics in the curriculum. His scholarly interests include the language of medicine, narratives on the doctor-patient relationship and the role of the humanities in medical education.

The Dr. Leslie A. Wells Lecture in Medical Professionalism is part of

Professionalism in Medicine: A Symposium

Sunday Oct. 14 2012 | 1 p.m.–6 p.m. | The Fluvarium

1:00 p.m.	Opening reception
1:30 p.m.	Welcome and introductions
1:45 p.m.	Presentation by Dr. Andrew Major, Assistant Professor of Anesthesia (MUN) "Reflection is terrific… as long as it's not self-flagellation!": Introducing a Reflective Portfolio to Foster and Assess Non-Medical Expert CanMEDS roles in an Anesthesia Residency Program
2:10 p.m.	Presentation by Sandra Cooke-Hubley, Clinical Clerk, MD program — Class of 2014 (MUN) The blind side of medical education: Medical students and use of online social networking sites
3:00 p.m.	Inaugural Dr. Leslie A. Wells Lecture in Medical Professionalism
3:45 p.m.	Getting our bearings: An invited panel discussion on professionalism in medicine for the 21st century Panel discussion with Dr Donald Boudreau (McGill University), Dr. Ayelet Kuper (University of Toronto), and Dr. Pier Bryden (University of Toronto) moderated by Dr. Abraham Fuks
5:30 p.m.	Closing remarks
6:00 p.m.	Closing reception

For further information or to register (no charge) contact: Carol Hedd at 709 777 8673 carol.hedd@med.mun.ca.

http://bit.ly/MUNMEDprofessionalism

Funding for this event has been generously provided by the Medical Graduates' Society of Memorial University through its Ingram Award (Dr. J.T.H. Connor, 2011-12); Office of the Dean of Medicine, MUN; College and Physicians and Surgeons of Newfoundland and Labrador; and the family of Dr. Leslie A. Wells. Other support from the Newfoundland and Labrador Medical Association, along with Postgraduate Medical Education, MUN is gratefully acknowledged.

MEMORIAL UNIVERSITY
Faculty of Medicine

Med-34-09-2012-50-AC