Shabnam Asghari et al (PI) and others (as one of the co-investigators): SurgeCon: An Emergency Department Surge Management Platform. CIHR Operating Grant SPOR, 2018-2019, $100,000.

Wang PP (PI), Li YM(Co-PI). CIHR-NSFC Team Grant : Healthy Life Trajectories Initiative (HeLTI) – China. Improving the health of mothers-and-babies through a life-course approach: the Healthy Pregnancy Initiative in China (HPIC), $2.5 million and ¥15 million, 2016-2021 (unsuccessful)

CIHR-SPOR team member: People living with chronic diseases achieve their optimal mobility and participate fully in life, Letter of Intent to CIHR, Submitted January, 2016. (unsuccessful)

Yi YQ, Sun G, Wang PP, Traverso M, and Allison J. Long-term food insecurity and obesity in Newfoundland, Faculty of Medicine (seed grant), $10,000, 2015-2016.

Gao ZW, Wang PP, Woodrow J: A crippling cost? The burden of Osteoarthritis on the community and health care system of Newfoundland and Labrador: Rural versus urban residents, $20,000, Faculty of Medicine, Dean’s Innovation Funds, 2015-2016.

Wang PP and Lian S. Exploring Causal Association Between Smoking, Alcohol Consumption, and Colorectal Cancer in Newfoundland: a Mendelian Randomization Study (student project), $7,000, Newfoundland and Labrador Centre for Applied Health Research (NLCAHR), 2014-2015

Wang PP, Zhu Y. Folate, Alcohol Consumption and CRC Survival: a Mendelian Randomization Study (student project) $5,000, Newfoundland and Labrador Centre for Applied Health Research (NLCAHR), 2014-2015

Wang PP, Roebothan B, Ryan A. Prevention of Colorectal Cancer with Lifestyle Modifications bridging Research, Health Awareness and Practice in Newfoundland and Labrador, $25,000, Department of Health and Community Services, NL, 2013 (Under review)

Parfrey P, Green R, Green J, Wang PP, Woods M. Provincial Community Based Outreach Office Corner Brook. $774,653, ACOA ICF, IBRD, Eastern Health, and Faculty of Medicine, 2013-2016. This fund is to extend the network of community based outreach offices to Corner Brook to translate the CRC research to clinical care and supports the infrastructure for it.

Wang PP, Zhao J. Examining the direct and indirect effects of socioeconomic status (SES) on colorectal cancer risk using structural equation modelling analyses. $35,700, CIHR Cancer Research Training Program, 2010-2012. (PI through student award)

Halfyard B, Wang PP, Crane J, Newhook LA. The impact of delivery by caesarean section on infant and child health in Newfoundland and Labrador. $11,000, Janeway Foundation, 2009-2010.

Wang PP, Squires J. A study to investigate the effect of meat consumption on the incidence of CRC in Newfoundland and Ontario, CIHR-IHRT Studentship Award. $35,000, 2007-2009. (PI through student award)

Wang PP, Sun ZY. Dietary factors and microsatellite instability in sporadic colorectal cancer, NLCAHR, MSc Fellowship Award. $36,000, 2007-2009. (PI through student award)

Wang PP (Co-Investigator). Interdisciplinary research on the determinants and impact of colorectal cancer: Molecular-genetic factors, risk modifiers and population health (CIHR team in interdisciplinary research on colorectal cancer). $3,600,000, Canadian Institute of Health Research (CIHR), team grant, 2006-2011.

Wang PP (team leader), McLaughlin J, Roebotohan B, Knight J, Coterchio M, Briollais L, Parfrey P. Exploration of Risk Factors, Inter-provincial Differences and Risk Modifiers. $229,000, Canadian Institute of Health Research (CIHR) as part of the CIHR team grant, 2006-2011.

Sherman M, Wang PP, Krahn M. National Viral Hepatitis Seroprevalence Survey, Protocol development. $20,000, Health Canada, 2004

Wang PP, Chen KX, Qian BY, et al. Quality of life in cancer patients. Tianjin Science and Technology Committee, Tianjin, China. $50,000 Yuan (funded through Tianjin Cancer Institute and Hospital), 2003-2006.

Chen KX, Qi BY, He M., Li YT, Wang PP. Identification of high risk population for breast cancer in Tianjin. Tianjin Science and Technology Committee, Tianjin, China. $180,000 Yuan, 2003.